Response to Arguments.

1. Applicant's election with traverse of the election is in the reply filed on 7/19/2007 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that that there is no search burden. This is not found persuasive because art that reads on one species will not likely read on the other. However all claims have been examined based on the allowable generic claims 1 and 19 as explained below.

- 2. Claims 1 and 19 are allowable. The restriction requirement, as set forth in the Office action mailed on 6/19/2007, has been reconsidered in view of the allowability of claims to the elected invention pursuant to MPEP § 821.04(a). The restriction requirement is hereby withdrawn as to any claim that requires all the limitations of an allowable claim. Claims 3,6,9,12,15,18,21,24,27,30,33, and 36 directed to species II are no longer withdrawn from further consideration because they require all the limitations of an allowable generic linking claim as required by 37 CFR 1.141.
- 3. In view of the above noted withdrawal of the restriction requirement, applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

 Once a restriction requirement is withdrawn, the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 121 are no longer applicable. See In re Ziegler, 443 F.2d 1211, 1215, 170 USPQ 129, 131-32 (CCPA 1971). See also MPEP § 804.01.

Reasons for Allowance

4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Claim 1 contains the elements "arraying all types of predetermined proper signals used for signals transmitted and bit strings of patterns including errors each derived from each proper signal to thereby generate a different two-dimensional image and disposing a set of received signal patterns, each comprised of an arbitrary proper signal and a group of two-dimensional images of patterns having the arbitrary proper signal added with an error, in a state that enables identification of each proper signal to thereby generate a received signal pattern image" and "using optical signal processing to evaluate a coefficient of correlation between the received signal image and the received signal pattern image to thereby obtain a correlation projection image in which depth and brightness intensity distribution is proportional to the coefficient of correlation; extrapolating transmitted proper signals from a region that includes a maximum point of the depth and brightness intensity distribution appearing in the correlation projection image based on a correspondence between the region and the set of received signal patterns in the received signal pattern image" which are not found in the prior art in connection with each other. As discussed in applicants background section decoding and error correction are usually preformed by electrical means not optical means. A prior art system that does use optical signal processing is in US 6,275,311Boffi et al. Boffi et al. receives a serial input and arrays this serial input into a 2-demensial image as in the claimed invention (see abstract.) Then decoding (see column 8 lines 5-15) capable of error correction is preformed as in the claimed invention (see column 8 lines 5-15). However this decoding would not involve "arraying all types of predetermined proper signals used for signals transmitted and bit strings of patterns including errors each derived from each proper signal to thereby generate a different two-dimensional image and disposing a set of received signal patterns, each comprised of an arbitrary proper signal and a group of two-dimensional images of patterns having the arbitrary proper signal added with an error, in a state that enables identification of each proper signal to thereby generate a received signal pattern image" and use it to "evaluate a coefficient of correlation between the received signal image and the received signal pattern image" because the processing in Boffi et al. is preformed with logic gates and does not calculate a "correlation projection image". The remaining references cited also do not perform the two elements mentioned above. Therefore Claim 1 is allowable over the prior art. Claim 19 is the apparatus written as the means for performing the method of claim 1 and is like wise allowable. Claims 2-18 and 20-36 are allowable because they depend from these claims.

5. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
